Over the last week we have had several excellent reports from boaters travelling along both the Shannon and the Barrow Lines of the Grand Canal.

Â

Aptly put by one boater as "the Grand is getting grander"! The water levels are excellent and the maintenance and dredging work carried out over the winter months are making a huge difference to boats of all sizes using the system.

Â

Well done to all involved at Waterways Ireland. Keep up the good work, it is so appreciated by all boaters.
