

July 2012 Updates

02 July 2012

Last Updated 14 August 2012

Daingean Co. Offaly hosted an excellent heritage day on June 20th and a report and some pictures can be seen here.

The ever popular Shannon Harbour Canal Boat Rally reached its 41st year with Rambler as the Commodore's boat. Read all about the weekend as told by Giles of the barge Hawthorn.

Jamestown 2012 is almost upon us and pretty soon boats will be heading there. This time around it is a week -long event and details are on their web-site. On July 4th a very successful launch event was conducted on the water with the very capable Moon River the venue for the evening. Have a look at the report and pictures here.

The latest in the labour history series, Snippets 7, can be found on our Memories page.

Those wishing to cross Dublin from one canal to another will find useful contact information and bridge lift times on this page.

The well received and much discussed "River Rats Calendar" continues to gather momentum in sales, and updates will be posted here.

RTE 1 are re-running the Waterways/Royal Canal series which involved the Rambler and is well worth a look for its prize-winning direction and camera work. Catch it at 7.30pm on Monday evenings.