

The Magic of an Irish Canal by Anita Hendy

16 July 2008

Last Updated 17 December 2009

The Magic of an Irish Canal

The latest book in the Children's Series, it is about the Festa in Robertstown between 1965-78 and how the community fought to keep the canals open.

The author has written a Trilogy set in Ireland between 1956 and 2000, a wonderful love story between two families, and four books for children on Irish Heritage.

These books are available directly from the author at the Anita Hendy website and will be signed by the Author for the reader.

Â

Â